(By Atticus Mullin in Montgomery Advertiser.)

Ten days from today, (Sunday, July 1.) the second half of the legislative session will begin with many and varied problems facing the legislators. Men well informed on legislative affairs predict some bitter struggles over measures which will be submitted.

Some of the larger matters which must receive the attention of the legislature follow:

The millage tax of three mills for education.

Revenue bill, including machinery and licenses.

Agricultural committee bill with machinery.

Taking convicts out of the mines.

Amendment to gasoline tax bill giving entire proceeds to counties.

Educational bills recommended by agricultural committee.

Adoption of code.

Mobile port enabling act providing for issuance of bonds.

Amendment to workmen's compensation bill providing more "teeth."

Lee Long bill to abolish two salaries for office holders.

Abolition of state highway commission and substitution of three man commission.

Statewide stock law.

Appropriation bills.

Others Expected.

These matters are already in sight and are certain to come up when the legislature meets.

Rev. C. H. Motley, of Montgomery, will preach next Sunday morning and night. Mr. Motley represents the Conference Superannuate Endowment Fund. Our church has made a creditable contribution to that fund already, and there will be no collection taken on that account. We hope there will be a good congregation to hear and participate in the services both morning and night. Brother Motley always brings a great message.

The pastors of the Methodist churches and their families, from Ozark, Dothan and Elba, all took dinner together at "Kill Kure" on July 3, and had a delightful outing together. Its great to get into God's great out-of-doors occasionally and to see not so much what man has done, but what God has wrought.

The young people of the church will assemble at the church and go to the county alma house at 5.00 o'clock Sunday afternoon, for a prayer and song service. We should be glad to have not only the young people, but anybody who will join them there. There are eight inmates on the farm and they would appreciate any gift of refreshments or edibles of any kind that you are disposed to give them. Let's all go and cheer God's poor, which would mean you except for the fact that you have blessings where they have misfortunes.

Next Sunday the pastor of this church will preach at Enterprise.

The pastor was very much pleased to see a number of new faces in the congregation last Sunday. We hope you will not be just a visitor occasionally but be there every time the church door is open and join in the services with all the rest.

Remember the devil does not take vacations, but does his most effective work while the folks are taking theirs. Wherever you are next Sunday, go to Sunday School and Church. Go to prayer meeting next Wednesday night at 8.00 o'clock.

ENFAULA PEOPLE INDIGNANT OVER WOMAN'S LETTER.

Enaufaula, Ala., June 29.—An indignation mass meeting took place in Enaufaula late today for the purpose of protesting against letters written by Mrs. Lillian Maugans, republican postmistress at Enaufaula for the past four months, in which it is alleged a slur was cast upon the dead of the Confederacy. The letters were published in Ohio and Enaufaula newspapers.

According to D. M. Brannon, chief of police at Enaufaula, the mass meeting was called by the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the federated women's clubs, the Daughters of the American Revolution and other every other organization in the city.

"Slur On Confederate Dead." The letter which Mrs. Maugans wrote according to P. D. Doughtie, city clerk of Enaufaula, contained a slur on the "confederate dead who lie under the sod of the southland and everywhere." Mrs. Maugans recently went to the national cemetery at Andersonville, he said, where some one some time before had painted one of the tombstones a bright yellow. She is said to have remarked in the printed letter that such a color was "very appropriate to the Confederate cause."

When asked where Mrs. Maugans was and if she would be present at the mass meeting, the chief of police replied: "She just left the city a few minutes ago in an automobile for Ohio, therefore she will not be at the mass meeting tonight."

Mrs. Maugans, with her husband, came to Enaufaula about fifteen years ago. She is a native of Degraffe, Ohio.

BIG FARMERS MEETING WILL BE HELD AT ELBA ON NEXT THURSDAY MORNING

A meeting of the farmers, busi. as men, and others interested in the production of cotton has been called to be held at Elba on next Thursday, July 12th, at 10.30 o'clock.

Mr. Allen Northington, the general manager of the Alabama Farm Bureau Cotton Association, Mr. W. D. Barton, District agent of the Alabama Extension Service, and some other attractive speaker will be here for the meeting.

The purpose of the meeting is to explain to those interested the advantages of Co-operative marketing, and the work that is being done by the Alabama Farm Bureau Cotton Association.

During the past season the cotton association has made a splendid record in their work in handling cotton for its members. According to a statement in another part of today's paper the Alabama farmers led in selling profits through the association.

The meeting promises to be one of interest to those who attend, and is hoped that a good crowd will be here. The meeting will be held at the courthouse at 10.30 o'clock next Thursday morning. A similar meeting will be held at Enterprise in the afternoon at 3.00 o'clock. All farmers and all others interested are urged to attend these meetings.

MASH FAMILY HAS BIG REUNION AT RUTLEDGE.

The sons, daughters, sons-in-law and grand children of Mr. J. S. Mash of Rutledge, Alabama, in Crenshaw county, are leaving for their homes today after a family re-union at the old home near the famous "Mash Old Mill." Somebody else runs the old grist mill now for Mr. Mash is eighty-eight years old and his eye-sight is almost gone, but he built the mill and operated it for such a long time that it is one of the landmarks of the community.

Several generations of boys have ridden on mules to that old mill, with a sack of corn, for which they rode home in the late evening with the sack full of fresh water ground meal.

For several years Mr. Mash also ground wheat in his mill though the farmers do not grow so much wheat now as formerly. But the old grist mill with the same big water wheel is still grinding away and the neighbors all speak of "The Mash Old Mill."

The re-union of the family the past week was the first time all of his children have been with the father since the mother died thirty years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Dodd, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Berry and daughter Miss Marguerite of Manchester motored down and will pass through Montgomery on their way back today.

John S. Mash, Jr., son Felix and daughter, Marguerite of Elba, Ala., with Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Mash of Rutledge and Miss Mary Mash who keeps house for her aged father made up the party.—Saturday's Advertiser.

Mr. F. H. (Tobe) Allred, one of Elba's best known and prominent citizens, died at his home below town on Tuesday morning at five o'clock, after an illness of several months.

While his death was not unexpected, it was a great shock to his family and friends. Mr. Allred was a native of Pike county, but for the past several years had made his home here. He was a good man and a useful citizen, whose loss will be keenly felt.

Mr. Allred is survived by his wife and several sons and one daughter, besides a number of brothers and sisters, among them being Dr. C. S. Allred, of Elba.

PARENTS SHOULD SET THE EXAMPLE.

If parents persist in telling little "white lies" before their children, they should not be surprised when they find their children are telling some "black" ones. A lie is a lie regardless of the color. A boy was asked how old he was and his answer was: "I am four on the train, five at home and six at school." And yet the boy's parents would probably deny having told a lie in their lives.—Luedenle (Miss) Times.

WANTS TO SUBSTITUTE

CHAIR FOR GALLOWES.

The electric chair will be substituted for the gallows in Alabama, if a bill prepared by Senator J. C. Inzer, of Etowah county, becomes a law. The draft of the measure has been completed and will be introduced at the July session of the legislature. It provides for the electrocution of all condemned prisoners at Kilby prison at Montgomery and authorizes the state convict board to provide the necessary equipment. It also stipulates that the warden at Kilby prison will be the executioner and that nobody may witness an execution except a few state officials, two physicians, a spiritual adviser of the condemned and members of his or her family.

It is said that many prominent citizens of the state are also in favor of the substitution of the electric chair. Among those who have expressed themselves is Secretary of State S. H. Blain.

LUXURIES FOR CONVICTS.

The Jesse French Piano Co., of Montgomery, has sold the State of Alabama for use at Camp Kilby a piano and a phonograph. These instruments will be used for the entertainment of the prisoners and will also be of help in the religious services held each week. Picture shows are held twice a week at Camp Kilby and as an addition to these shows a piano will add attractiveness to the program. At Camp Kilby there are several competent and skilled musicians who will take turns about in entertaining their fellow prisoners.

One of the oldest garden vegetables is the cucumber. It is supposed to have had its origin in the Far East, probably India, some three thousand years ago.

STATE WIDE STOCK LAW WILL BE PROPOSED COMING SESSION

A state wide stock law will be proposed at the coming session of the legislature. The law will be drafted and recommended for passage in the legislature and members of the committee are hopeful it will be enacted into law.

The question of a state-wide stock law in Alabama has been discussed many times prior to convening of legislatures. It has never been thrashed out on the floor of the house and senate. The advent of blooded cattle raising in Alabama has brought the question to the forefront again this year. It is the opinion of well informed members of the agricultural committee that Alabama will never take her rightful place in the list of stock raising states until the open range is abolished or brought down to a minimum.

It is believed the statewide stock law will have another effect, that is that the cattle tick can be more effectively controlled when the open running of cattle is brought down to a minimum. It is said the owner who keeps his cattle under fence and prevents them from running at large and mixing with cattle indiscriminately always gets the best results.

Members of the committee believe the statewide stock law will be a great incentive to better breeds of cattle. An owner in a non-stock law section hesitates, it is said, to invest his money in blooded cattle when the chances are his herd will become contaminated with the "pinkey woods" variety of stock in spite of all he can do. It is generally understood the plan for the statewide law provides for some elasticity. It is said the law contemplates fixing stock law as a statewide policy. It is provided, it is said, that a county may vote to exempt itself from the operation of the law but in the event the county so elects, the cattle of that county must be fenced at least against the surrounding counties. This would virtually mean, it is said, a fence around the county which elects to let its cattle roam at large.

GOOD YEAR

COTTON ACREAGE SHOWS INCREASE OVER LAST YEAR; CROP IS 68 PER CENT NORMAL

CONDITION EXACTLY AS WAS SHOWN AT SAME PERIOD FOR YEAR 1922; PLANT IS HEALTHY, CROP IS CLAN AND PROSPECT GOOD, SAYS GIST REPORT.

Increased acreage in cotton, condition equal to that of this time last year and generally favorable outlook is carried in the following statement issued by Statistician F. W. Gist, of the agricultural department Monday:

The acreage found planted and growing to cotton in Alabama on the 25th of June this year, with a condition of 68 per cent of normal, indicates a crop of 894,000 bales, if conditions remain the same until the crop is picked. The acreage of 3,312,000 is an increase of 18 per cent over the acreage planted last year, 2,807,000 as finally revised. The estimated acreage for 1923 is given below by counties and crop-reporting districts:

Northwest: Colbert 50,000; Fayette 35,000; Lamar 30,000; Franklin 30,000; Marion 35,000; total for district 180,000.

Northeast: Calhoun 40,000; Cherokee 45,000; Cleburne 15,000; DeKalb 50,000; Etowah 40,000; total for district 230,000.

East Central: Chambers 95,000; Clay 30,000; Coosa 7,000; Lee 50,000; Macon 65,000; Randolph 45,000; Russell 55,000; Talladega 45,000; Tallapoosa 48,000; total for district 430,000.

Tennessee Valley: Lauderdale 75,000; Lawrence 65,000; Limestone 75,000; Madison 95,000; Marshall 70,000; Morgan 70,000; total for district 550,000.

Blackbelt West: Greene 60,000; Hale 65,000; Marengo 75,000; Pickens 50,000; Sumter 50,000; Tuscaloosa 55,000; total for district 360,000.

Southwest: Baldwin 4,000; Choctaw 30,000; Clarke 35,000; Mobile 2,000; Washington 6,000; total for district 77,000.

Southeast: Barbour 85,000; Bullock 60,000; Coffee 80,000; Dale 60,000; Geneva 80,000; Henry 75,000; Houston 75,000; Pike 85,000; total for district 600,000.

Mineral: Blount 55,000; Bibb 15,000; Chilton 40,000; Cullman 75,000; Jefferson 5,000; St. Clair 30,000; Shelby 30,000; Walker 10,000; Winston 30,000; total for district 280,000.

Blackbelt east: Autauga 55,000; Dallas 125,000; Elmore 60,000; Lawrence 60,000; Montgomery 75,000; Perry 77,000; Wilcox 50,000; total for district 480,000.

South central: Butler 36,000; Conecuh 30,000; Crenshaw 54,000; Crenshaw 46,000; Escambia 28,000; Monroe 44,000; total for district 240,000.

The condition of 68 per cent of normal is exactly the same as last year at the same date. Reports all agree that the plant looks much better than it did last year, but that weeds are more numerous. Stands are good in most sections, the plant is healthy and fields are clean and well worked. This in spite of unfavorable weather during May and the first half of June and also in the face of a decided labor shortage. It means that farmers have put forth the best efforts in cultivation and have taken advantage of more efficient methods of work, while putting in long hours. The indicated yield at this time is 129 pounds compared with 142 pounds finally picked last season.

Should conditions continue as good or better the crop in Alabama this year will be larger than last; continued weevil activity can easily leave the crop smaller than last year.

In making the average estimate this year 2,250 fields were actually counted; reports of individual acreage were received from 1,500 farmers; and the judgment of 250 regular crop reporters, 350 rural mail carriers, 150 hunkers, 75 bureau directors, and numerous private persons regarding the comparative acreage were used. The condition figures were received from regular crop reporters and rural carriers.

It is unreasonable for men to be judges of their own cases.

Safer Than Ever---

A few weeks ago a small bank in another state closed its doors. The people of that community became alarmed and started a "run" on the National Bank of that town. The Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis learned of this and they rushed to the aid of the National Bank with money enough to meet all the demands of the depositors. The trouble quickly melted away when the people learned that the great Federal Reserve Bank was behind their local institution, making it safe even in times like that.

The great banking system now has the power to adjust itself to all problems. That means greater safety and greater service.

Every man should have an established credit. Whether he avails himself of it at rare intervals, or frequently it is of great value. There are often times when being able to take advantage of an established credit means much. A bank account is the surest means of gaining an established credit in your community. The bank is the logical place where information as to your credit is sought, and your banker should be your first reference.

GREWSOME STORY IS TOLD OF YOUTH'S MURDER MYSTERY IN CHOCTAW COUNTY

Mobile, Ala., June 29.—Just why he is sure the legless skeleton brought to Mobile from Choctaw county by federal agents is that of his son, Drue Conner, was told Friday to a representative of the Montgomery Advertiser in an exclusive interview secured with R. C. Conner, father of the boy.

The story is amazing and gruesome. It is the story of a murdered man's charred bones, kept unburied by relatives in their homes in the hope that something might turn up to prove who killed him.

Apparently that long expected something has turned up. Federal officers make no secret of the fact that they have strong clues to the murderer. According to the father the boy was last seen by him on December 14, 1921, on the way to the home of his uncle, Beebe Stokely, where he was working. The next day, children in the country school have reported they saw Drue walking along the road that passes near the school about noon. From that day to this Drue Conner has never been seen nor heard from.

Body Found A Month Later.
About four weeks later, Jim Raines found a bleached and legless skeleton in the woods some distance from the Frost Bridge, Munlock Hill road. Raines, with several neighbors, called for old man Conner and asked him to come along with them and identify the skeleton. "Mr. Conner, are you sure, it is the skeleton of your son, Drue?" the reporter asked. "If it ain't it's somebody mighty like him," the old man replied.

"How could you identify it?" "Well, for one thing, the peculiar shaped head. Then the teeth was all good. Drue had good teeth."

The teeth in the skeleton are a perfect set, devoid of any dental work, which the boy had never had done, said the father.

It appears from the way the skeleton was found, Conner said, "that the body had been lying between two trees which were about three feet apart with a thin wire such as is used to bind hay. A basket-like arrangement of wire between the thighs supported the body for the burning. After the fire died down, and the legs were gone, the body fell away from its supports and when found the bones were scattered about the top of the little rise where the two trees grew. The flesh was gone, probably eaten off, says the father, by buzzards, or dogs."

Buttons Are Part Clue.
Among the bones were found buttons similar to the ones on Drue's overalls, silver change he carried in his pocket; a box of snuff which his father said fruit jar which his father said was full of shiny when the boy started on his last long trail. These are the articles which will be used in the identification. A shotgun and two exploded shells were found. The gun, said Conner and Lett Raines, who joined in the interview, belonged to Jim Raines.

Some sort of inquest was held, though on this point Conner is hazy. It does not know of any coroner's verdict being returned. Two doctors were present, Dr. Sam Allman and Dr. Frank McKinley, the mail doctor from Bollinger's mill.

Conners says everybody present told him he could take the skeleton if he wanted to. Dr. McKinley asked for the skull and Conners says he gave it to him in the hope that the physician might discover something to clear up the mystery. The doctor saved the skull off not to use as a paper weight, as first rumored, but probably to clean the skull out, says the father.

Remained Unburied.
The skeleton was taken to the home of Conner's brother-in-law, Jesse Jordan, where it was kept for over a year.

method of handling state convicts. He will oppose taking them from the mines. The governor, however, has stated to his friends he is willing for the state to take over and handle county convicts in the same manner as state convicts are handled. It is said the companies a state amount for each kilowatt of power developed. This measure, it is understood, will bring on the part of the big manufacturing concerns which use hydro-power. The law gives the power companies a right to a reasonable return on their money and the general belief is a tax on each kilowatt will be passed on to the ultimate consumer.

The Gasoline Tax.
Governor Brantley, it is learned, is not willing to give the counties the entire proceeds of the present two cents a gallon tax on gasoline. A little less stands now, the legislature fund of the state treasury gets one-half of this tax and the other half is divided equally among the sixty-seven counties. The governor, it is learned, feels the general fund of the state treasury cannot afford to be depleted to the amount of $500,000 annually. If all the gasoline tax is given to the counties.

The agricultural committee will present a state law bill and other bills. It is predicted by well informed legislators the revenues now coming to the state from agricultural department sources into the hands of a board, will bring on a fight.

There is said to be a well defined idea among the legislators to abolish the state highway commission and submit therefor a three man commission. A measure of this sort is sure to meet strong opposition. It is stated members, or most of them, of the present commission are strenuously, or more properly speaking, violently opposed to losing their jobs.

Those informed in legislative circles hesitate to predict what bills will pass and what defeated. Not even the veteran, Alf Tunstall, the wisest of them, will venture a prediction.

OBITUARY.

On last Saturday night, June 23, 1923, the death angel visited the home of Jamie E. Nolin and took away his loving wife, Valie.

She was sick only one day but it seemed God was calling her home from the moment she was taken. The faithful doctors, Woodall and Massey, busied themselves for several hours, but in spite of all, God knew best and took her away from us.

Miss Lee was born November 1, 1905, being only seven years of age at her death. She was married to Jamie E. Nolin August 9, 1922. After spending a few days here with her relatives they went to Greensboro, and made their home there for about three months, after which they came back and made their home near Brunson until her death.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Goodson. She leaves one brother, Collis Goodson, and five sisters: Mrs. Alice Mae Rachel, Misses Sweetie, Helen, Grace and Lois Goodson to mourn her loss. She also leaves an infant daughter, Valie, who has always been a sweet and affectionate girl and loved by all who knew her, and we feel sure that she is asleep with Jesus, but Oh! how sad to part with her never to see her sweet face again or hear her sweet voice until we meet her in that glorious home on high where we hope to be with her forever.

We miss you Valie, dear, Oh! how sweet, But we know you are resting At Jesus' feet, But some sweet day, in yonder skies, We hope to meet you in paradise.

We wish many of God's rich, best blessings upon everyone and especially those who were so kind to us and pray that God will comfort each heart made sad by her departure.

A sister-in-law, who loved her dearly and is grief stricken made so by her departure, 1425. Kate Goodson.

NEW REVENUE BILL WILL ABOLISH TAX COLLECTOR IN SMALLER COUNTIES OF STATE

MEASURE INTRODUCED IN HOUSE TUESDAY WOULD MAKE SHERIFF COLLECTOR OF TAXES AFTER OCTOBER 1, 1927; OTHER CHANGES SUGGESTED.

The machinery bill of the revenue bill which was introduced in the house Tuesday, after the convening of the legislature, and which has been referred to the committee on ways, means and appropriations, abolishes the office of tax collector in all counties of Alabama having a population of less than 35,000 people, effective October 1, 1927, according to information which comes from the capitol.

Members of the recess committee which had the preparation of the bill in charge were reticent concerning this feature. They would neither affirm or deny that the bill carries a section proposing the abolition of the office of tax collector in all counties under 35,000 inhabitants after October 1, 1927. However, the information was gathered from reliable sources.

The machinery bill also carries the provision that the term of office of all tax collectors and tax assessors of Alabama shall be extended two years from the expiration of their present terms. In all counties over 35,000 inhabitants, the office of tax collector is retained in the machinery bill.

Sheriffs Collect Taxes.
The bill provides that the sheriffs of all counties in Alabama under 35,000 in population will take up the duties of the tax collector who is abolished. The sheriffs of these counties are given the same authority as the former collectors. The sheriffs of these counties will receive the same fees and commissions as the collectors formerly received.

It is also to be the theory of the author of the machinery bill that the purpose of assessing whether or not the valuation is equitable. It is understood the bill provides that where the tax commission finds that the values in any county are not reasonably uniform with the same classes of property in other counties, the commission shall have authority to correct the board of review, to readjust and re-equalize the same, for the current or succeeding or tax year. It is also understood that if the board of review should refuse to revalue the property in a county in order to do so by the state commission, the state commission itself may revalue and equalize the property of a county and the county shall pay the expense of the same.

It is further understood that the bill provides the franchises or intangible property and assets of every corporation doing business in Alabama, shall be subject to taxation, whether organized or authorized by Alabama or any other state or any other government.

BATTERY B WILL EN-COFFEE CITIZEN, DIED TUESDAY AT DOTHAN

Elba people were pained on Tuesday morning when a message was received here announcing the death of Captain C. M. Cox, at a hospital in Dothan. Mr. Cox was injured in an automobile accident near Arton, on Sunday morning, suffering a broken thigh and other bruises. Little hope was held out for his recovery on account of his advanced age, but his relatives and friends were shocked at the announcement of his death.

Captain Cox was 94 years of age until time for the departure Sunday morning. July 15, at 8:00 o'clock, for Fort Bragg, Fayetteville, N. C., for the annual encampment.

The Battery will be in command of Captain Charles L. Rowe, and already all necessary equipment is being put in place. The Battery has been mobilized at 3:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and will be encamped at the Armory here until time for the departure Sunday morning.

LAWN PARTY FOR INTER SE AND SUNSHINE CLUBS—

Mrs. H. C. Johnson and Mrs. James English were joint hostesses at a lovely lawn party Wednesday afternoon, when they entertained the Inter Se and Sunshine Clubs, at the home of Mrs. Johnson.

Vases of summer cut flowers and ferns placed here and there made the lawn a beautiful scene.

Mrs. Oates Rowe, of Montgomery, and Mrs. Bertie Patterson, of Daytona, Fla., were out-of-town guests on this delightful occasion.

MAN DRAGGED TO DEATH.

Corinth, Miss., July 5.—Stanley Hubbard, the 20 year old son of Thomas Hubbard, of near Shiloh Military Park, on the east side of the Tennessee River, suffered a horrible death Wednesday morning. He started to the river bottom to play, riding a mule with the harness on. An hour later he was discovered dead, his foot tangled in the chains, the mule having dragged him to death along the road. Parties enroute from Savannah to Corinth to attend a Fourth of July celebration here discovered the mule dragging the body. As they came through the river bottom.

No one knows any thing about how the tragedy occurred further than the mule evidence furnished in the discovery. He left home for his work in the river bottom, and an hour later his body was discovered as stated, the mule completely exhausted from running. Marks along the road near where he was to have gone to work showed that several trips had been made by the animal with its human drag.

MRS. MURPHREE ENTER-TAINS BRIDGE CLUB.
